

Gen. Grant has arrived home—Gallipolis, Ill.

Queen Victoria is reported as suffering constantly from violent headaches.

The General Conference of the M. E. Church opens, in Cincinnati, May 1.

A fire at Hull, Canada, Wednesday, destroyed over one hundred buildings.

The wheat crop in Western Kansas is reported almost totally destroyed by drought.

An appalling disaster occurred in New York City Wednesday evening. While a fair was in progress at Madison Square Garden, the front of the building gave way, the wall falling outward. Four persons were killed, and some eight or ten more or less wounded.

There is nothing wrong with Gen. Beatty's Republicanism, though he is a little off the handle in regard to the direction of the vote of Ohio should take in the National Republican Convention. In a recent speech he said:

This is our hope, but whether the decision at Chicago be favorable or adverse to our wishes and expectations, we shall, with any other acceptable candidate, take off our coats none the less readily, and like earnest, stalwart Republicans, do yeoman service under the flag of our party—that party which saved the Nation, emancipated the slaves and made all men equal before the law.

There was a high old time at Syracuse, last Wednesday, the occasion being the assembling of the New York Democratic State Convention. It was a clean cut fight between Tammany and Tilden for control of the delegation to the National Convention. Tilden carried off the honors by a vote of almost 4 to 1. Tammany boiled, and set up a side-show of its own. Two sets of delegates will appear at Cincinnati. This quarrel makes a man "spoil" Democrat howl and rave worse than a mad bull.

The new Penitentiary Board of Directors have commenced the work of reorganization. On Thursday Noah Thomas, a one-armed soldier of Madison County, was elected Warden, and Rev. E. R. Miller, of Marion, a member of the Lutheran Church, appointed Chaplain. There are over 600 applicants for positions as guards, and less than 100 places to be filled.

Last week the Journal announced the death of Capt. Wash. Kerr. The Ironton Register gives the following particulars:

Yesterday (Tuesday) about 12 o'clock, Capt. W. H. Kerr came home on the Kentucky State. He had been somewhat sick for a month past, and when he landed, was quite weak, and rode up in a cab, but he was in good spirits, and anticipated no serious results. When he got home, some friends called, with whom he talked business and joked in his good old, hearty style. He said, however, he felt a little unwell on his back, and took a nap. Dr. W. F. Wilson had stepped in to see how he was, and gave him a powder. In a few minutes he started up stairs to bed, and on his way he lifted up his arm and asked: "Doctor, is there any danger of a man losing the use of his arm?" The doctor replied there was, but he would attend to it that afternoon. The Captain retired and went right to sleep. He had been sleeping but a few minutes when his wife went up stairs to see how he was, and found him lying on his back, his head thrown back, and his arms outstretched. He died of apoplexy.

Portions of North Carolina have suffered severely from forest fires. Here is an incident:

Zachariah Owens was engaged in getting shingles from the swamp on Alligator River, and lived there in a house surrounded by woods. Saturday he left home on business, but had not gone far before he saw the flames approaching so rapidly as to imperil his house and family, and he hastened back to save them. He hurried his wife and three little children away, hoping to reach the main road before danger, but they were overtaken by the flames. The swamp, midway between their home and the place of safety, and the entire family were burned to death. The bodies were found next day by neighbors. The mother was clasping her infant in her arms, the father and other two children lying near.

The disaster to the town of Marshfield, Mo., from the cyclone, which struck it Sunday week, is more serious than first reports represented it. Eighty-one lives are known to have been lost, and several more are expected to die from injuries received. The storm was one of the most serious of the kind that has ever visited this country. The following are some of the details:

The hurricane originated about twelve miles south of Ozark, about 6 o'clock Sunday evening. Twenty-nine houses were destroyed in Findlay, eighteen or twenty miles from here, and Samuel Kelley and a boy named Eddings were killed. Pineville, Cassville, and several other small towns are reported damaged by the storm.

The Republican's Marshfield special says: Seventy-one victims of Sunday's storm have been buried, and some twenty-five or more are in a dying condition. The number seriously wounded is about 150. A babe about eight months old, whose mother was killed and friends all wounded, was found in a ravine north of town, where it had lain all night. It is now doing well. Another child, two years old, was yesterday afternoon found in a treep, where it had been nearly twenty-four hours. It was considerably bruised, but will recover. It was to-day claimed by its parents, who live two and a half or three miles south of town. Its aerial flight hence must have extended over three miles. A wagon has been found that was carried four miles, and a section of the smoke stack of a mill over three and a half miles.

It is reported that from thirty to forty persons have been killed by the spurs of the tornado in the country, and that the town of Corcoran, in Barry County, is badly wrecked as this.

No more suffering from Neuralgia if you will try White's remedy. It effect a permanent cure. Bottles 50 and 25 cents.

Railroad Affairs.

Chief Engineer Wilson has established his head-quarters in the second story of Harper's block, Court street.

Judge Benham is back from Columbus.

Suits for condemnation of right of way, in a few cases, on the Pomeroy road, will be commenced soon.

Saturday night the iron toward Logan was laid down to the farm of Mr. Henry Blanc, or about four miles and a half from the city.

Friday morning Locomotive No. 73 with gravel and platform cars arrived here. On account of the heavy rains the locomotive was not gotten up the bank until about five o'clock Saturday evening, when it immediately raised steam and pulled its tender up.

Paries have been hard at work putting up the steam shovel the past week, and it is now about in running order.

Two other locomotives with accompanying cars will be brought here at once.

Mr. C. A. Clendinning assisted in bringing the locomotive up the hill, using two crabs for the work.

Two kitchen, two dining and three sleeping cars to compose the boarding train on this road were received here last week and the hands took up quarters on the same.—Logan Republican.

The contract for the Pomeroy branch of our railroad has been let to Messrs. Shaw & Donohue, Donohue doing the work from Cheshire up. It is a subcontract under the Miller, Thomas & Co. construction Co. The work is expected to be completed in 60 days. Price 14 cents per yard.

The locomotive now here weighs 33 tons and was built in '79. It has the Westinghouse Air Brake attached.

Here are the names of the first construction train: L. Gillette, conductor; he is from the C. & T. E. R. J. Patterson, Engineer, from the Sunday Creek Valley E. R. John Fry, Fireman.

Monday forenoon the gravel and platform cars were brought up, and the first train started out. The gravel cars were taken up to the steam shovel and switched. In the evening seven platform cars loaded with ties were taken out to the end of the laid track and left. There were several of the boys went out on the train to see the scenery. Tuesday several cars loaded with iron, spikes, etc., were taken out. Everything being in readiness they will now put down over a half mile of track per day. The force now employed on the road in this vicinity numbers 50. The number will soon be doubled.

The Democrats in Congress are as full of treason as ever. They have just passed the Army Appropriation bill, and it contains the celebrated Confederation rider, which so startled the country at the extra session. No money shall be expended to preserve peace at the polls, or to protect voters in their rights. This is a nullification, as the law has been declared constitutional by the Supreme Court.

Morgan Items.

After the recent rain, which was needed very much, vegetation has started again, and spring is putting on her dress of green, but I fear that those who were anticipating "peaches and cream," will be disappointed, for the peach crop is badly injured. Early small fruit is probably mostly destroyed, but the apples seem to be uninjured yet.

I wish to call the attention of the Trustees of the several townships in this county to Sec. 4734, page 1163, of the Revised Statutes: "The township public places or places, situated on each township, shall be erected and kept in repair, at the expense of the township, at all such forks and cross-roads as are kept in repair for general public travel, and lead to some village, depot, or other important public place, a post and guide-board, containing an inscription, in legible letters, directing the way, and distance to the village or public place or places, situated on each township." This duty has been neglected badly in the past by somebody.

I see that Commissioner Raum has stated to Congress that twenty-five of his officers have been killed and forty-nine wounded while engaged at their duty in the South, in three years and a half. I wonder if this is the "shilly-shally" of the Baltimore talks about?
